Don't Be DEAD Right!

The National Safety Council estimates that well over 300 persons will die of traffic accidents over the New Year's holidays. If you have occasion to drive over the holidays remember that caution and common sense are one of the best methods of staying alive until 1952.

GALA CHRISTMAS PARTY HELD FOR CAMPBELL PIONEER CLUB MEMBERS

Members of the Pioneer Club, social and recreational organization for the senior male citizens of the Campbell area, honored the club mother, Mrs. Clara Baldwin, at their Christmas party last week by hanging a picture of the founder of the group in the clubhouse. Members exchanged gifts and enjoyed a Christmas tree. Judge Martin S. Walsh gave a brief talk to members and David and Virginia Rutherford sang carols for members present.

The club, one of the only organizations of its kind in the area, was founded three years ago by Mrs. Clara Baldwin. In a letter to the Campbell Press, Mr. Baldwin asked that, inasmuch as the youth of the town was being so well taken care of, a similar program might be outlined for the senior residents of the area. Response to Mrs. Baldwin's letter was so great that she decided to head a movement to secure a clubhouse for the elder men of the district.

Property and clubhouse behind the library hall were donated to the club by Mrs. B. Billings. Materials and equipment for repair and remodeling of the clubhouse were made available by local business men at wholesale prices. Clubhouse consists of space and equipment for elder citizens to play checkers, cards and chess, and to engage in social activities and use as a reading room. To the rear of the clubhouse, horseshoe pits have been constructed.

Far from being a charity organization, the club is completely self-supporting. Members pay a small fee each month for maintenance and repair of grounds. In cases where a prospective member is unable to pay dues, other arrangements are made. The club actively solicits the membership of elder males of the area, although membership is open to men of any age. Any man, whether he has home facilities or not, may become a member of the group. President of the club is W. McDonald.

Mrs. Baldwin, who handles all correspondence and acts an unofficial secretary for the group, stated this week that she wished to thank the community on behalf of the club's members, for the fine support they have given to make this year's Christmas party a success.

Lt.-Commander Donald L. Watts commanding officer of Fighter Squadron 874, returned to San Diego this week aboard the aircraft carrier USS Bon Homme Richard. Watts resides on El Solyo Avenue, Campbell.

Milkman Predicts Prosperous Year

Business will be better in 1952 says Al Vierra, milkman who has been serving portions of the Campbell area for more than six years. Vierra, who has been comparing business conditions on a local level for some time, bases his forecast on the fact that more people are buying more milk and other dairy products than they have in a long time. "What's more important," he says, "they are paying their bills now instead of waiting until next month. This indicates that there is more money around than is usual for the Christmas season. Usually, people will put off paying their December milk bills until sometime in January instead of paying immediately as they are now."

Vierra claims that people in general seem to be happier than they have been for the last two years and sums up his forecast that the happy attitude and the availability of more money will bring a prosperous year.

Announcement was made this week of the opening of the Campbell Music Center at 381 E. He has led his own dance orchestra for the past four years under the name of Sonny Claremont and has made various appearances on the radio. CAMBRIAN CLUB NEEDS $6,000 MORE FOR PROPOSED YOUTH CENTER

A spokesman for the Cambrian Men's Club announced this week that approximately $2000 of the needed $8000 for remodeling the planned youth center has been collected. Plans for the youth center, which is being sponsored by the Men's Club, call for the moving of the old Cambrian school to property located on the north boundaries of the school ground which has been leased by the club. The original school house, a land mark to old-time residents of the area, was presented to the Men's Club by Nielsen and Nielsen, contractors working on construction at the new school. Club members plan to redecorate and remodel the four room building prior to opening it for use as a meeting place for youth and other organizations of the area.

Members discussed the move at the last club meeting and handed out 1952 membership cards. Movies of the activities of the Cambrian scouts were also shown to members.

KIWANIS PARTY

Approximately 100 parents and children attended the annual children's party of the Campbell Kiwanis Monday noon. Larry Hill performed honors as master of ceremonies and children were presented with small gifts and viewed children's cartoons.

L. J. HILL WILL HEAD MARCH OF DIMES CAMPAIGN

Laurance J. Hill has been chosen to head the Campbell area March of Dimes campaign, Joseph M. Kiser, county chairman announced this week. The Campbell high school district superintendent will direct the efforts of the seven member student council who will undertake the actual management of the drive. As has been the custom durnig the last five years, the high school students will make all arrangements for collections, including the preparation of special campaigns. They will be assisted by Vice-principal George Egglang. Indications are that the group anticipates passing their goal of $1700 which was collected during the last drive.

County Chairman Kiser announced that due to the greated need for funds, the drive will start a week earlier in other areas but collections in the Campbell area will be delayed until after the return of high school students on January 7.

Students of the high school typing classes have already answered an emergency call from county headquarters in volunteering to address more than 5000 preliminary notices sent out to residents of the area.

W. K. Kusher Wins Prize For Essay

William K. Kusher, Rt. 1, Box 84, of Saratoga, was awarded a $300 Crosley refrigerator as a prize in the company's nation-wide contest. Object of the contest was to complete the sentence, "To me, the American Way of Life Means...". Winner of the contest was to receive a choice of any article of merchandise costing $300 and was given the choice to name the agency or charity which was to receive $100. Kusher selected the First Presbyterian Church of Los Gatos to receive the $100. He obtained his entry blank from Campbell Furniture and Appliance Co.

Kusher's prize winning statement was, "To me, the American Way of Life means the opportunity and the right to live where I wish, work at what I choose, say what I think and worship in the church of my faith; freedom to secure an education, acquire and own material possessions through industry and honest effort and select those who direct my nation's affairs.

Judges for the contest were County Counsel Howard Campen, William Weeden of the Bank of America and Ed Sheppherd.

GETS RADIO TRAINING DEGREE ...

Mr. David E. Smith, 545 S. McGlincey, Campbell, Calif., has completed a course in Practical and Theoretical Radio and Television and has been awarded a Diploma by the National Radio Institute of Washington, D. C. He finished the prescribed course of technical studies with creditable grades and is to be congratulated upon his achievement.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE RAISE IS ANNOUNCED

Starting with January 1, the price of one year's subscription to the Campbell Press will be increased from $2.50 to $3.00. This increase is necessitated by the rising cost of production, supplies and maintenance of machinery. During the last three years, the cost of newsprint has risen fifty percent. Cost of type metal has increased more than 59 percent. Production costs and cost of repair and maintenance of machinery have risen proportionately. While we dislike raising the price of subscriptions, we feel that this twenty percent increase is necessary to aid in offsetting the far greater cost of bringing you your newspaper.

Completion of final plans for construction of five new buildings on the Campbell High School Campus is scheduled this week. The buildings included in the plans are a combination agriculture and auto shop building, a twelve classroom building and two study hall buildings. Laurance J. Hill, district superintendent, announced that the district expects to let bids for the project sometime in February with start of construction scheduled for March. AGRICULTURE LABORATORY WORKS TO PRODUCE HEALTHIER ORCHARDS

The reduction of mineral deficiencies in fruit trees by careful analysis of tree leaves and by cooperation with the University of California Extension Service is one of the principle aims of the Stoner Laboratory on South Second St. in Campbell. While operated on a strict commercial basis, the laboratory cooperates with the extension service and makes tests according to proceedure recommended by the university at Davis. Main duties of Henry C. Stoner, owner of the lab, are to determine nutrient deficiencies of fruit trees through analizing the mineral contents of their leaves.

After anaylsis is made, Stoner makes certain recommendations for the addition of needed minerals and consults with the orchardist as to the feasibility of carrying out the suggestions.

Samples of leaves brought in are tested for three major deficiencies: nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash. In addition, they are tested for excess amounts of calcium, magnesium, sodium, chloride, and manganese which, when found in the soil in sufficient quantities, often tend to prevent assimilation of beneficial elements.

Orchardists with inferior trees who follow the recommendations of the laboratory and the extension service are often amazed at the results produced over a period of a year or two. In one case, an orchardist from Evergreen was considering pulling out a complete orchard of dying apricot trees until leaf samples were tested by the lab. A test of the apricot trees showed them to be extremely deficient in potash. The laboratory, in conjunction with the extension service, recommended that he try sample feeding of the trees with greater amounts of the substance. Several trees were marked for the experiment and fed large amounts of potash. Results were so spectacular that the orchardist is now feeding all of his poorer trees greater amounts of potash.

While much of the business of the Stoner Laboratory comes through farmer contact with field representatives of the extension service, the success of the recommendations have given greater publicity to the laboratory and orchardists are beginning to ask Stoner to make tests before they have even requested the advice of the extension service.

When an orchardist signifies his desire for a leaf analysis, either upon advice from a field representative of the extension service or by direct contact with Stoner, first step is to make a visual diagnosis of the leaves. Stoner will visit the orchard and inspect leaves. With practice he has become able to accurately diagnose some cases even before a leaf analysis is made. Samples are then collected from five or ten trees or in some cases,

WALSH NAMED TO DIRECT OLD SETTLERS' DAY FESTIVITIES; NEW COMMITTEE MEETS ON THURSDAY

Martin S. Walsh, Justice of the Peace for the Campbell Township, was appointed to head the 1952 celebration of Campbell Old Settlers' Day by Chamber of Commerce President Joaquin Payne at a meeting of that group last week. Old Settlers' Day, second oldest local celebration in the State of California, is held annually on February 22. Only other strictly local celebration known to be older is the Pasadena Rose Festival held each year on New Year's Day.

Old Settlers' Day was originated approximately 58 years ago to honor the settlers of the area. Some dispute exists as to he actual date of the first celebration with old records stating that a similar celebration was first held in July of 1893 on the grounds of the Campbell Growers' Union. The next celebration was held in the YMCA Hall the following February, but according to a letter attached to an old program, the celebration first became known as Old Settlers' Day in 1895. Since that time, a city-wide celebration has been held each year on Washington's birthday.

The program, which is sponsored by merchants, organizations and individuals of the area under the direction of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, has annually featured a parade with entries and floats by various merchants and organizations of the area. This year's festivities will again follow the same theme with tentative plans calling for a parade, hobby show, dancing, noted speakers of the area and state, and the welcoming of the pioneers of the area.

Walsh announced this week that the first organizational meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on January 3 in the new chamber of commerce building on South First street. At that time, he stated, a program of events and general theme will be discussed and announced.

Walsh has been a resident of the Santa Clara Valley during his entire life and a resident of Campbell for the past twelve years. He began law practice in San Jose in 1930 and was elected to the post of Justice of the Peace for the Campbell Township in June of 1950.

NEED FOR AIR RAID WARDENS URGENT FOR CD

An urgent call for additional volunteers for Air Warden work was issued this week by Richard Morton, Civilian Defense Zone Head. Morton stated that between six and seven hundred wardens are needed, but as yet, only about fifty have signed up. Morton stressed the importance of the work of the block wardens and stated that it would be impossible to complete the civilian defense program without enough wardens. He stated that a minmum of four to each block are needed for efficient operation.

Larry Hill, superintendent of Campbell Union High School district, has been placed in charge of sign-ups and anyone wishing to volunteer his services may reach him at the high school.

Miller came to the Campbell area from Ukiah where he held the post of city treasurer. His past experience includes six years as chief accountant for the William Randolph Hearst interests in San Francisco, chief accountant for the Hilo Electric Co., Ltd., in Hawaii, and ten years with the United States government as field auditor. He has had many years of experience in general accounting books, book service and all types of state and federal tax returns.

JC's START MEMBERSHIP DRIVE HERE

The Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce announced their membership drive will start this week. No quota has been set for this year but a spokesman for the group announced that they are anticipating a larger number of members in view of the service plans which rate high on the group's civic work. Foremost among the service work are the JC's efforts on their safety drive and the work in aiding needy children.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is made up of young men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are in business for themselves or are representatives of some business or trade in the area. Regular meetings are held twice a month and social activities are regularly held. Primary interest of the club is service work throughout the community. A spokesman for the group emphasized the benefits which both the employer and the employe receive through membership in the group.

Pursuant to the Labor Code of the State of California, the Board of Trustees of the Moreland School District of Santa Clara County, has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder; and these prevailing rates are on file in the office of the said Board of Trustees.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Contractors who propose to have subcontractors perform work or labor or render service to them in or about the work should designate in their bid the names and location of the places of business of each subcontractor who will perform such work, labor or render service, in an amount in excess of one-half of one percent of the Contractor's bid.

All bids are to be made out on forms furnished by the Board of Trustees.

The special attention of prospective bidders is called to the "Proposal Requirements and Conditions" for full directions as to bidding, etc. A deposit of $10.00 will be required from all contractors receiving plans, said deposit to be refunded by the Board of Trustees when plans and specifications are returned in good condition.

High School 'Christmas Gift' Well Received

The Campbell Union High School Christmas program played to a full house last Wed. night. Both the musical portion and the production of the play, "Why The Chimes Rang," were well-received by the audience. Exceptional feature of the play was the combined voices of over 100 students of the a cappella choir and the mixed chorus blended to produce a background of "heavenly" music.

Trick lighting effects were produced through colored and overhead lights, Focus lighting was used to advantage. The lighting units were a gift to the school by the class of 1950 and Wednesday night was one of the first times they were used. A net background enabled the use of the stage for simultaneous double scenes.

A representative of the school stated that this was the first time that a school produced play had ever drawn a packed house, and attributed a good portion of this to the special edition of this newspaper which was published last week. It included many pictures and articles about the various groups participating in the program.

McCOY SALES & SERVICE

A message to telephone users having extended service

On December 21 charges for toll telephone calls between most Bay Area communities were substantially reduced

If you live in any of the communities served by exchanges listed below, and yours is an extended service telephone, you are now able to call any of these exchanges (which do not fall within your present local calling area) at this new, substantial saving.

Alvarado	Millbrae	San Francisco-East Bay
Belvedere	Mill Valley	San Jose
Campbell	Mission San Jose	San Mateo-Burlingame
Centerville	Moraga	San Rafael
Concord	Mountain View	Saratoga
Corte Madera	Newark	Sausalito
*Danville (and Diablo)	Niles	Sharp Park
Decoto	Orinda	South San Francisco
Hayward	Palo Alto	Sunnyvale
Irvington	Redwood City	Walnut Creek
Lafayette	Richmond	Warm Springs
Los Altos	San Carlos-Belmont	Woodside

*Reduction effective January 6th.

More and more telephone calls are speeding between the towns and communities of the Bay Area these days. To save you money on these thousands of daily calls, we've changed them from "toll calls" to "message unit" calls. This improvement means that for each five cent unit of the former "toll" charge for most station calls between these points, you'll now be charged one "message unit" costing only 4.4 cents. For example, a three minute call which previously cost 25 cents will now cost only 22 cents—a saving to you of 12%.

This important saving is partly the result of new and more economical billing methods. The difference will show up on your telephone bill in this way. Instead of receiving an itemized list of charges for these calls, you'll now receive a single statement of the total number of message units you've used. This new, simplified plan does not apply to collect calls, or to those charged to another number.

Taxes, too, are now lower on "message" unit" calls costing 25 cents or more. On these calls, your Federal tax is reduced from 25% to 15%—a reduction of 10% on each call! This means even more savings for you.

SUPERVISORS GIVE NOD TO TILSON CENTER

Approval of the Tilson shopping center on Quito Road and Saratoga Avenue took another step nearer completion Monday when the county board of supervisors passed an ordinance rezoning the shopping center site to a light commercial zone. Next step will be the approval of plans for the center by the county planning commission. The planners, however, can take no further action until thirty days have elapsed following the supervisors action.

The supervisors had earlier approved the fourth appeal by Tilson and Sanfilippo, but later found that through error, they had issued a use permit instead of passing an ordinance for rezoning. Issuance of use permits is reserved for the planning commission.

Varsity Cagers Bag First Win

An alert Campbell varsity cage squad surprised the Lincoln Lions to win their first game of the new season last week on the San Jose court, 35-27. Sparked by Cowden with 10 points, the locals had little trouble in downing their opponents despite a second period comeback try on the part of the Lions. Issacson led the Lions with eight tallies.

"THE WASHOUT"

The Washout is a column which appears in the Campbell Union High school student newspaper, "The Campus Echo." This column was written especially for this issue of the Press by "Gerty."

To friends, fans, and those who tolerate me:

Men(?) Was your girl (or wife as the case may be) born between January 20 and February 19? The star gazers claim those girls hate arguments, and housework, but above all else she hates stingy men!! At Hi School quite a few girls who belong to this group say, A-h-h—Marilyn Kirk, Ruth Croft, Jeanne Sims and Linda Curtis.

Did you ever notice that when you look up a word in the dictionary, the definition isn't just what you want? So after a great deal of research I finally discovered the true meaning of two words which always bothered me. Now I pass them on to you:

Life—Just one dumb thing after another.

Love—Just two dumb things after each other.

Besides being a writer (many people disagree with me there) I am a philosopher. So here is a little advice to men. Don't tear your hair out over a woman, it'll be harder to catch the next one if you're bald! Also I have found the reason women live longer than men. Women talk so much, they can't stop long enough to die. (By the way, that last part was given to me by Ronald Stanley Gilpatrick.) Blame him!

Here is a little poem that I will dedicate to Henry Ramp, Dave Jones, Virginia Bese, Anna Thielman, Daniel Martin and Paul Zimmerman. I call it "Ode to Upperclasmen—mainly Seniors."

You can tell a freshman by his silly eager look,
You can tell a sophomore 'cause he carries one less book,
You can tell a junior by his dashing air and such,
You can tell a senior, but you you can't tell him much!!!

Several of my readers, they are my relatives of course, have suggested that this column ramble from subject to subject and should be called "The Rambling Wreck." Isn't it great to be all alone in the world without any relatives? May their souls rest in peace.

So long for now,
"GERTY."

Last Rites For David Crawley

Final services were held from Krug Memorial Chapel last week for David Todd Crawley, 18 Page St., Campbell. Crawley passed away recently following a lengthy illness. He had been a resident of Campbell since he retired 15 years ago.

He came to California 43 years ago from North Carolina. In 1925 he moved to Tracy where he entered business in an auto company. He was also foreman of a ranch in the Tracy area during that time.

He was a member of the Campbell Oldtimers Club and the Campbell Gun Club.

Crawley was the husband of Mollie Crawley of Campbell, father of David Todd Crawley Jr., of Washington; Robert Joe Crawley and James Edward Crawley of San Jose; and Ray William Crawley of the U. S. Navy. He is survived by four brothers and three sisters and five grandchildren.

Interment was at the Los Gatos Cemetery.

NIMROD NOTES . . . Local reports indicate that duck hunting is taking a turn for the worse down Los Banos way and up around Sacto. However, we understand that duck hunting in the Butte County area is thriving. Duck hunting up in Williams is reported as only fair. Geese however, seem to be plentiful enough for everyone to take home the limit in Los Banos and over at Millerton Lake. Quail are reported to be good in Kern and Nevada counties with hunters taking home limits each day.

Local nimrods had a chance to try their skill at the San Jose Trap and Skeet Club's turkey shoot held last week off Casey Rd.

While not particularly in the line of local interest, we'd still like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to Coach Hod Ray of Palo Alto, who passed away last week after more 20 years of service as head of the athletics dept. at Palo Alto. We knew Hod personally back when we attended that peninsula institution and while we were never on one of his teams, we can remember many experiences as a member of his gym classes. The well known coach ran up a remarkable record during his years of coaching with his grid squads winning more than 70 percent of all games played. Latest accomplishments and probably the best tribute to him were his championship squads for 1950 and 51.

The Buc 30 cagers missed their chance for their third win of the season last week when they lost a battle with the Lincoln Lions. The Lions, who were tied with the locals at the end of the first period, caught fire during the second quarter to tally 17 tigits. That fatal second-frame was probaly the deciding factor in the game because the Bucs failed to score enough to overcome the big lead. Their big brothers, the varsity squad, made up in part for the loss as they won their first tilt of the season with a 35-27 victory over the Lions. The San Jose squad came within inches of catching the locals in the second frame and the score stood at 12-14 at the end of the period but a fast third quarter, in which the Bucs broke loose for 14 points, spelled the difference between the two teams.

The Stanford Redshirts will be out to revenge their defeat at the hands of Cal when they meet the Illini in the Rose Bowl Tuesday. Despite the odds of six-point favorites which the experts have given the Big Ten representatives, we'll string along with a win for the boys from Paly. Several factors will enter into the battle which will definitely favor the Indians. First of all, their loss to Cal took some of the starch out of them and made them realize that they can't just go into a game and let the outcome depend on the fates, but they have to really knuckle down and work to take the big ones. Add to that the underdog status which should make them work even harder and the fact that they will be trying to spoil the big ten's record of wins in the Rose Bowl and we might see some real action from them.

GRAMMAR CAGE SQUAD COPS THIRD WIN

Campbell Grammar School's "A" basketball team added another victory to its string Tuesday noon by defeating Sunnyvale 42 to 18. Standout Campbell players were Vernon Lunt, Roger Swan and Fred Esparza.

This is the third straight win for the team in league play. On Wednesday of last week in an afternoon game in the high school gym, they defeated Alum Rock, 34 to 16. Marshall James and Paul Uyeda were top players. In a previous game they defeated Santa Clara. Four more games remain on the league schedule.

The Grammar School "B" team defeated Alum Rock last week, 22 to 15 with Alec Peters and Mattie Musladin taking honors for top play. The "B" team has won one and lost two of their league games.

Santa Cruz Tramps On Varsity Cagers

A strong Santa Clara Cage team ran haphazard over the Buc varsity boys to hand them a 56-18 defeat on the local courts last Saturday. The Bucs, who led momentarily by a 10-7 score at the end of the first quarter, were completely outclassed by the Santa Cruz squad which held them to only eight more digits in the remainder of the contest. Don Childers sparked the victors with a total of 14 ponits while Hansen, Cowden and Hill tied with four each for the locals.

The Bucaneer lightweights took honors for the locals with a 38-30 win over their Santa Cruz opponents in the preliminary. The Campbellmen sprinted to an early 17-4 lead but were almost unhorsed when Santa Cruz forward Fitzpatrick broke loose in the last frame to lead a comeback try with eight of the 16 points scored. Center Church and Fitzpatrick of Santa Cruz and Gifford of Campbell tied for high point honors with eight tallies each.

NEW LIQUOR STORE OPENS

Announcement was made last week of the opening of the Cambrian Liquors, located on Union and San Jose-Los Gatos Roads. Lester Nelson, proprietor, states that the store will carry a full line of liquors including beer and wine and candies and tobacco. The new store is decorated in maple and the theme is carried out in the stained show cases.

Nelson, who is married and has three children, has been a resident of the area for the last year. He previously was in the banking business in Tacoma, Washington. He said that he picked the Cambrian location because he believes the area has an excellent future.

Commission Sets New Game Rules For The New Year

Ring out the old, ring in the new, will have some application to California's fishing and hunting regulations at the turn of the calendar year, according to the Department of Fish and Game.

One-half hour after sunset, December 31, will mark the end of quail, tree squirrel and brush and cottontail rabbit hunting in those areas still open. Bear hunting will be a thing of the past in all counties except Del Norte, Humboldt, and Mendocino, where there is no closed season or bag limit.

Hunting for jack rabbits in some southern California districts ends at the half-hour after sunset curfew, but continues elsewhere throughout the year.

Most important of the new year's angling regulations calls for a 1952 license for all persons over the age of 16 years. They are now on sale at more than 3,000 agencies and offices of the Department.

Restrictions against the taking of salmon in certain inland waters will be removed January 1.

There's no need to put hunting and fishing gear on ice until spring the Department announcement advises. Steelhead, salmon and striped bass fishing is in full swing, and the winter sportsman in California may still go after abalones, clams, eels, cockles, crabs, grunion, lobsters, scallops, ocean fish ,black bass sunfish, catfish, shad, frogs, wild boars, raccoons, and mountain lions. In some areas, the pursuit of bears, jack rabbits, mullet, and channel catfish is also legal year-round.

Nimrods Find Good Hunting In Special Area

Nearly every participant got his deer in the Lassen-Washoe and Devil's Garden special antlerless hunts this year, according to field reports recently tabulated by the California Department of Fish and Game.

Ninety-four percent of the Lassen-Washoe hunters were successful and 92 percent of the Devil's Garden sportsmen tagged deer, for a total of 2860 hunters who took 2772 animals from the reclining ranges.

These two largest of the State's special antlerless deer hunts were scheduled from November 3 thru 11 to remove part of the two herds considered excessive for available range and feed. The interstate deer herd committees which recommended the seasons and had hoped for removal of at least 2,000 from each herd by California hunters.

Average weight of the deer bag in Lassen and Plumas counties was 85 pounds and the largest weighed out at 149 pounds. Department checkers judged 40 percent of the deer killed to be in "good" condition, 56 percent "fair" and four percent, "poor."

Deer taken in the Devil's Garden area of Modoc County averaged 91 pounds for mature does, with the largest weighing 133 pounds. Their condition was reported to be 53 percent "good," 42 percent "fair," and five percent "poor."

"Evidently the earlier buck season left a good many bucks for the rut this year," asserted James A. Blaisdell, assistant game manager for the Lassen-Washoe area. "Nearly every hunter saw bucks; one man saw six in one day, all legal deer. Another said he had never seen so many bucks in one area."

Mrs. Ronald Gresham passed the Christmas holiday with her husband in San Diego where he is receiving his boot training with the Marines. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gresham.

AGRICULTURE LABORATORY

from as many as one hundred trees. Usually 100 leaves are included in the sample and all trees which have been used in the leaf sample are marked for future reference. Trees over five years of age are usually used as sample subjects because reactions of younger trees to certain soil conditions are often quite different than those above five years of age.

The leaf sample is then taken to the laboratory for processing. First step is to place the leaves in a drying oven temperatures up to 140 degrees to completely dehydrate them. After all moisture has been removed in the drying oven the leaves are ground into a fine powder which consists of organic matter and minerals. After being weighed on analytical balances, the powder is then reduced to ash in a muffled furnace at temperatures which range up to 1112 degrees. Higher temperatures are not used because they might liberate some of the chemicals remaining in the powder. Purpose of the furnace is to remove all the organic matter from the powder and leave only the minerals.

In the case of testing for potash content, the remaining substance is then disolved in a dilute solution of nitric acid and further diluted with distiled water until a solution of 100 cubic centimeters is obtained. Twenty-five cubic centimeters are then added to a small amount of platinum chloride and the entire mixture is evaporated until only one cubic centimeter remains so that the residue will contain concentrated amounts of the mineral for which the test is being made. Filtering and further dehydration reduce the the mixture to a solid which is weighed and the percentage of desired mineral is then computed on a percent by weight basis. The system is varied slightly in testing for each individual mineral but the general method remains the same for each of the tests.

A detailed report is then made to the orchardist with certain conclusions drawn as to the deficiency, if any, and recommendations are made to correct the situation. Generally, the orchardist is advised to use only a few trees at first so that the recommendations may be further tested. If the trees show a lack of potash, the orchardist may be advised to add potash or to increase the amount of potash already being used. Usually ,only a few trees are so treated during the first year until a positive result is acheived. Once results show that the deficiency is being overcome, the orchardist may then add potash to as many of his trees as he desires.

In some cases, where the presence of a mineral which inhibits the proper assimilation of the deficiency nutrient is indicated, the orchardist may be advised not to introduce the needed fertilizer into the soil but to inject it directly into the tree.

While the general health and growth of the tree is the desired aim of the leaf analysis, proper application of the testing results will both prevent and cure trees which have been infested with bank beetle. The bank beetle sometimes known as shot hole bore, attacks only weakened trees and regulation of the nutrients in such a manner that the tree becomes strong will drive out the insect. In no other known case of disease, however, will addition of needed nutrients actually cure the trouble. It will however, produce a condition in the tree which will make it more immune to certain diseases much in the same way that a healthy person is better able to resist ailments than a person in poor physical condition.

The process of leaf analysis is in many cases, replacing the necessity for soil testing. Since soil testing is a complicated and expensive proceedure which often produces results that are difficult to interpret, results are often better with the leaf analysis system. The system also gives a better overall picture which might be compared to the difference between a doctor's examination of an individual and his examination of the food the individual eats.

The Stoner Laboratory is operated along lines which have been approved by Davis University and lines which are often used in experimental work in the university itself. The laboratory will often make tests for the university in addition to the regular commercial work involved and it is sometimes called upon to check the results of work already completed at Davis.

Henry C. Stoner, owner of the laboratory, started his work in Campbell in 1946 aften ten years of related work for the National Cannery Association. Upper half of his two story house is devoted to the laboratory while he and his wife and two children use the main floor for living quarters.

While Stoner is confining his work to fruit tree leaf analysis for the present, many laboratories are making similar tests on annual crops. This is particularly true of some of the wheat crops in the middle west.

Contrary to the opinions voiced in many circles, Stoner believes that a great future is in store for the orchardist in Santa Clara County. While physical incroachment on orchards by large residential tracts has reduced the land available for orchards by approximately 10 percent, Stoner claims that the soil is not becoming depleted. He states that we are merely undergoing a phase which has been present in European nations for 1000 years. He admits that the soil is not as rich as it was 100 years ago but claims that we can introduce the robbed elements to what many refer to as "worthless soil" by proper planning of crops and by artificial means. "Farmers in Europe have been doing this for many generations," he states, "even though they did not realize what they were actually doing in many of the instances."

Armed Forces Get Big Food Pack

California's farmers and canners have furnished nearly 100 million cases of fruits and vegetables for the armed forces in the past decade, according to a joint report on the state's canning and freezing industry by California Processor and Growers, Inc., and the California State Council of Cannery Unions.

This ten-year total of California food products packed for the armed services is larger than that of all the fruits and vegetables packed in the state in any single year, explained C. W. Roberts, Pacific Coast vice president of the American Can Company, which has provided many millions of the containers used by canneries. Emphasizing the importance of this contribution to the nation's defense effort, Mr. Roberts pointed out that about two-thirds of all food eaten by American troops during World War II was canned.

The largest shipment of canned foods to the services was made in 1944 when 28,527,000 cases of the farm products went to military kitchens. This was 49 percent of all fruits and vegetables packed that year.

This year the state sent an estimated total of 10,875,000 cases of these foodstuffs to the military, about 14 percent of all fruits and vegetables packed by canneries.
